Kane Forest Preserve Foundation Hosts 2nd Annual Charity Golf Outing
Proceeds to Benefit New Nature Play Space at LeRoy Oakes

GENEVA, IL — Grab your clubs and rally your foursome — the Kane Forest Preserve Foundation invites golfers of all skill levels to tee-off for a great cause at its 2nd annual golf outing fundraiser on Thursday, Sept. 11, at Hughes Creek Golf Course, 1749 Spring Valley Dr., Elburn.

Proceeds from this year's outing will support the development of a brand-new nature play space at LeRoy Oakes Forest Preserve, offering young children a unique, interactive outdoor experience that encourages creativity, exploration, and a lifelong love of nature.

“Our first outing last year was a hit, and we’re thrilled to bring the community together again — this time with an exciting new project to support,” said Becky Gillam, chair of the Kane Forest Preserve Foundation. “Whether you’re a seasoned golfer or just want to enjoy a day outdoors with friends, your participation makes a difference for local conservation and education.”

The outing includes:

- 18 holes of golf
- On-course contests
- Breakfast (sponsored by Chick-Fil-A Elgin)
- Bloody Mary Bar and 7 drink tickets
- Boxed lunches on the course
- Steak dinner
- Raffle prizes

And of course, camaraderie in support of a great cause! Tee-off is at 10 a.m. Foursomes are $500. Single golfers can register for $150.
